Still a chance to get your piece of Eden

MORE than R280 million worth of property was sold during the first week after the launch of Eden on the Bay, the mixed-use residential and retail development underway at Big Bay Beach Estate, in Blouberg.

According to John Edgar of Big Bay Beach Estates, 76% of the apartments were sold on the pre-launch evening, including two of the four deluxe R7.6 million duplexes. He said local buyers were the predominant investors, with a strong mix of those buying to let as well as those buying to live.

Eden on the Bay will consist of one- and two-bedroom architect-designed apartments and three-bedroom deluxe penthouses, and a retail section, which Edgar says has attracted interest from leading retailers, as well as the Mandela family who wish to open a Mandela icon restaurant.
